Dear Sirs!

Do you still buy old State bank notes? We have a large lot of Bank-notes, which we brought ~~[illegible]~~ from the south, from some bank down there. The notes are all on one Bank, the Bank of Commerce, New Berne, N.C. We enclose a specimen, a five dollar bill. We also have tens, but more fives, about from three to four to one ten. Can we use any number of bills? Have the kindness to state how many of each you want, but we can not give the same number of tens as we can of the fives. Stating how much per 100 bills. They are all in fine condition Enclosed you will find a postage stamp for a reply, kindly returning the enclosed bill, if you do not wish to purchase. Very Resp.

Dear Sirs!

Yours Total and received the list of Colonial & Continental bills in fair condition, some of them somewhat worn at the edges, but all are so that they can be read what they are and worth all that. We enclosed a description of them, and by that you can judge what they are. They are of the denominations of $250. down to a half dollar and with a few exceptions are all of N. Carolina. Do you want them and what is your figure. Although some of them is torn at edge it won't hurt them as they had a big enough margin that can be trimmed and not to hurt the bill in least. We enclose a card to compare. What will you give for the lot & want answer in return what we will do

Hoping to receive reply

We remain Very respectfully

Dear Sis:

Your postal received. You have paid all the bills we had, and we have none left, with us, you know as the time, and besides you have all the counting, and as we left that part entirely with you. If we have any left we would send them to you, but we have none. We gave you all the time you desired and we did not hurry. All that we have now are the N. Carolina bills, if you desire any of them to make up a loss kindly let us know by Postal. Very Resp. &c.

Dear Sir!

your Postalcard received. We are sorry to state that you were in error in your statement concerning the two bills. There is not enough in the whole thing to waste time and postage about it, as they are not nice subjects anyway to talk about. In counting and enumerating the bills, you did not know the matter with my son at all when we gave you all we had we turned the whole roll to you, you took and emptied every envelope and carefully examined the whole contents note by note singly and my son sat watching the whole proceedings waiting patiently to give you plenty of time therefore releasing me and of any responsibility of what there was and when you took charge of all me to you do as you please scattering the bills all over the whole table and the bills piece by piece, giving you all the time you wanted if you wanted one of the Bank notes in place of the two needed is not asking too as the refused the Bank notes at 2¢ for the fives and three cents for the tens. You paid the $500 at 15 cents and the $50 at three cents which would come to 18 cents but as you wanted no bills you would value our bills at only one cent each. We have given you 2 bills gratis as you said you would to see if you could get a sale for a lot. Have you done so? As we had turned all the sets over to you, and let you do all the counting and assorting it showed that you did not go by my sons say so therefore we had no more to do with it, and after leaving it all to you, we were not obliged to correct mistakes no more than a person would after leaving the counter of a Bank. We remained long enough to give you all the time needed to correct errors and I insisted for you to count and assort the bills, which I saw you doing. We enclose a $5 as I happen to have one among my other collections, and as soon as we have a $500. it will be sent to you, but we have none at present. If you desire [illegible] of the U.S. notes at 2 cents each [illegible] as we receive the $500. which you ordered at 15 cents, we will send them. Please let us know by [illegible]
